Lesson Topics (レッスントピック) : Reading Practice: Shape words, Color words, Emotions Words, Numbers 0-10

Summary (レッスン内容及びコメント) : This month in class with _____, we worked primarily on reading of various vocabulary words. We studied reading of: shapes, colors, emotions, and the numbers "zero" through "ten". _____ seems to be developing a better sense of the sounds that are made by each letter as we continue to work on reading, and she is now able to read almost all of the words for each topic. _____ has very quickly developed her understanding of English phonics and is now able to sound out many words that she has never seen before just by looking at the letters. This is very impressive considering how minimal our work with reading has been so far. Usually, children focus primarily on the first letter of the word and try to memorize the general shape when they begin reading. However, _____ seems to be focusing on all of the letters and actually trying to sound them out. I am very happy about this as it shows that _____ is developing her reading skills very quickly. As for her speaking abilities, I think _____ is growing and progressing very fast. She always speaks in English in class and she is very active and participative. She uses complete phrases/sentences in English when she talks which is very impressive. Of course, sometimes she speaks with grammar that is a little bit strange, but this is completely normal at her level. I am very happy that she is trying to speak English as much as possible so I try to correct her grammar in subtle ways without directly telling her that she made a mistake.

Overall, I am very happy with _____'s performance in class. Her reading skills as well as her speaking abilities are growing very class and I can see that she always comes to class ready to learn more. I am very excited to continue working with _____s in class and cannot wait to see how she will continue to develop her skills.
